

Anika to Showcase Regenerative Medicine and Orthobiologics Portfolio at the 12th Biennial International Society of Arthroscopy, Knee Surgery and Orthopaedic Sports Medicine Congress

BEDFORD, Mass.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--May 13, 2019-- Anika Therapeutics, Inc. (NASDAQ: ANIK), a global, integrated orthopedic and regenerative medicines company specializing in therapeutics based on its proprietary hyaluronic acid \("HA"\) technology, today announced plans to showcase its regenerative medicine and orthobiologics portfolio at the 12th Biennial International Society of Arthroscopy, Knee Surgery and Orthopaedic Sports Medicine (ISAKOS) Congress being held in Cancun, Mexico on May 12 - 16. Anika will be a gold sponsor of the event, which will feature a lecture session focused on HYALOFAST and CINGAL. Anika will also be exhibiting its injectable, HA-based, surgical bone repair therapy as well as CINGAL and HYALOFAST at booth #221. The Anika booth will also feature hands-on demonstrations of HYALOFAST procedures using the HYALOFAST arthroscopic virtual surgery simulator.

"We're excited to be a gold sponsor of this year's ISAKOS Congress and look forward to showcasing our innovative orthopedic and regenerative portfolio," said Joseph Darling, President and Chief Executive Officer of Anika Therapeutics. "Orthopedic sports medicine and sports-related injuries are a key focus for us given our extensive treatment portfolio that spans the continuum of orthopedic care. This congress represents an important opportunity for Anika to continue to develop relationships with and gain clinical insights from orthopedic medicine thought-leaders who will be critical to the successful launch of our bone repair therapy later this year."

The biennial ISAKOS Congress focuses on showcasing a variety of new preventative, therapeutic and surgical technique information, allowing attendees to expand their knowledge and enhance their surgical skills on sports injuries. The congress features surgical demonstrations, paper presentations, debates, lectures, symposia and instructional course lectures, as well as lunch time sessions, e-posters, and technical exhibits by notable global thought-leaders. ISAKOS boasts more than 3,000 members from over 90 countries around the world.
